6th Annual Celebration of
Asian Culture & Art

WELCOME

February 6th, 2016

Welcome to AnniCon 2016!

A celebration of all things Asian including music, costuming, manga, anime, food, history, and culture presented by the Public Library of Anniston and Calhoun County.

This year we have grown, adding three more rooms so that we take up the entirety of the Anniston City Meeting Center which means even more programming for you! We are especially excited to present a number of musical performances this year, including a concert by Jennifer Cihi, the American singing voice of Sailor Moon. An anime cover performance by vocalist Caleb Hyles; and an 8-bit music performance by Max Dolensky.

We also have a number of demonstrations including martial arts, writing Chinese characters, and preparing sushi. Seraphina is back with her popular Otaku Bellydancing Demonstration. This year we have a dedicated panel room, gaming room, and anime room where you'll find various panels, workshops, tournaments, and anime streaming throughout the day. Several of our guests will be presenting panels on making videos for youtube. Stefanie DeLeo will cover all you need to know about legally publishing fan fiction.

We hope that you enjoy this year's events.

Sincerely,

AnniCon Planning Committee
